Video Game Analysis &

Technical Design

Game Proposal

Concept

With hordes of Gwormans trying to break the eggs, your forces must run around the field and stop the worms.

Background Information

Chicken Coop Troop is an action game with simple controls, where the player controls the movement of a chicken to kill Gwormans. These Gwormans are invading worms from Gwormany, who's only goal is to destroy the chickens eggs.

Gameplay and Objectives

Using the controls you lead the chicken around the map and run over Gwormans to kill them. The Gwormans will come from off screen from any direction heading right for the Eggs. No obstacles will stop them, going around rocks, and in some cases, right under fences. But the faster you kill them, the better, so we include a points system, to grade the troops. The Gwormans tend to come in waves, about 2 or 3 minutes long, so you don't need to hold out for ever.

Controls

This will very on version
- PC: Holding left mouse button, your soldier chicken will follow your mouse, letting go will stop her, and with space you can activate your special.
- Mobile: Using your finger to lead the chicken around with field, letting go to let the chicken stop, double tapping will trigger your special.
- Console: Moving the right stick will move the chicken in that direction, while pressing the bottom button with activate your special.

Art and Audio specs

The art will be in the cartoony vein of styles, with simple elements, and visually striking colors. Everything will have a military theme, WW2 helmets on the chickens, and Nazi armbands on the Gwormans. Ammo crates and other thematic pieces will litter the environment. The music will be silly and cartoony to fit, with music having a war theme, with trumpets and fan fare.

Estimated Schedules

For 2 developers and 1 artist, it will take 2 – 3 months.

Competitive Analysis

This game targets people who are looking for something pickup and drop, with the action focus and short mission length, like candy crush and similier. The leader boards will also target those with competitive goals, similar to games lime flappy bird, and the high score obsession.